

National e-Learning Inventory: e-Learning Courses within the Canadian Police Community

(Updated May 16, 2012)

The following is an inventory of all e-learning courses (to the best of our knowledge) that are available to the Canadian Police Community. This inventory includes courses that are currently available through CPKN, individual police services, or police training facilities in Canada. This inventory also identifies courses that are currently under development or are being considered for development.

Courses are categorized as follows (Click on the arrow to go directly to the section):

- 1.0 Courses Offered by CPKN ▶
- 2.0 Service-Specific & Third Party Courses ▶
- 3.0 Courses Under Development ▶
- 4.0 Courses Under Consideration ▶

Purpose of the Inventory

The purpose of this inventory is to reduce the duplication of effort among organizations when developing e-learning courseware for training purposes and to encourage knowledge-sharing among police agencies. This inventory is maintained by CPKN and will be updated regularly based on input from across the country.

2.0 SERVICE-SPECIFIC & THIRD PARTY COURSES

This section lists courses that are developed and used by specific police services as well as courses offered by Third Party agencies.

Service-specific courses are typically not available to a general police/law enforcement audience. However organizations that are interested in learning more about the content (or obtaining access to a service-specific course) are encouraged to contact CPKN to obtain appropriate contact information for the relevant Content Provider.

Learners may get access information about Third Party courses by contacting the Content Provider.
