

BUILDING A SAFE AND RESILIENT CANADA

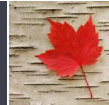

Economics of Policing

Shared Forward Agenda

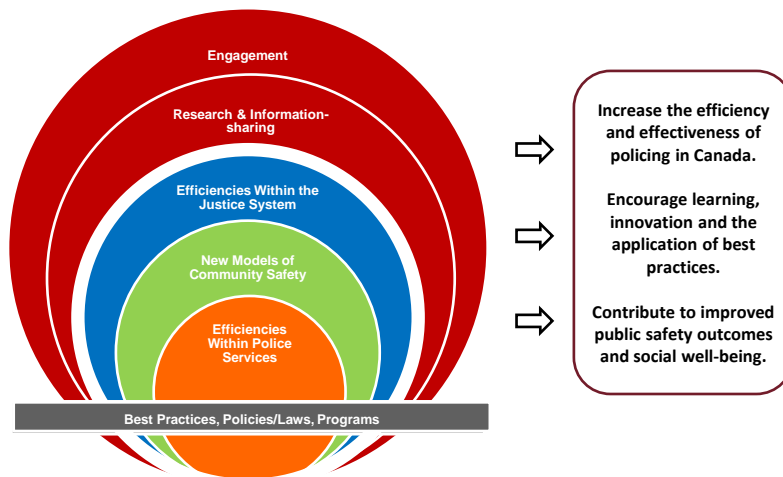

Rachel Huggins, Manager, Policy and Coordination Unit

SHARED FORWARD AGENDA - FRAMEWORK

BUILDING A SAFE AND RESILIENT CANADA

FOUNDATIONAL ELEMENTS - EARLY ACTIONS

BUILDING A SAFE AND RESILIENT CANADA

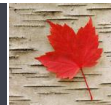

RESEARCH

1. Develop a police research plan.
2. Establish a police research network.
3. Implement a police research-sharing portal at Public Safety Canada.
4. Draw on existing funding sources to advance a Canadian police research plan.

INFORMATION-SHARING

1. On-going evolution of Index of Police Initiatives.
2. Continued use of Public Safety Canada's Economics of Policing website as the main portal for information sharing.

PHASE I – EARLY ACTIONS

BUILDING A SAFE AND RESILIENT CANADA

PILLAR #1: EFFICIENCIES WITHIN POLICE SERVICES

1. Develop & implement shared key police performance metrics linked to efficiency and effectiveness, as well as public safety outcomes.
2. Expand implementation of human resource competency profiles and qualifications standards.

PILLAR #2: NEW MODELS OF COMMUNITY SAFETY

1. Coordinate and support the expansion of successful models of community safety in Canada and elsewhere (e.g., the HUB).
2. Strengthen data collection and assessment of models.

PILLAR #3: EFFICIENCIES WITHIN THE JUSTICE SYSTEM

1. Share information on reforms that improve justice efficiency (e.g., procedures, operations, technology, alternative measures, etc.).
2. Identify policing priorities for justice reform and incorporate this information into current and future justice reform initiatives.

FOUNDATIONAL ELEMENTS – ACTIONS FOR CONSIDERATION

BUILDING A SAFE AND RESILIENT CANADA

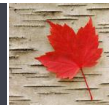

RESEARCH

1. Engage Canadians on the evolution and future of policing.

INFORMATION-SHARING

1. Organize on-going focused learning events (e.g., training, research, civilianization, tiered-policing, technology, etc.).
2. Undertake exchanges of best policing practices with other democratic countries.
3. Convene a second Economics of Policing Summit in Spring 2015 to review the progress of reform.

PHASE II – ACTIONS FOR CONSIDERATION

BUILDING A SAFE AND RESILIENT CANADA

PILLAR #1: EFFICIENCIES WITHIN POLICE SERVICES

1. Establish networks for procurement (uniforms, equipment) and shared services (information technology).
2. Harmonize police recruitment and training and link to qualifications standards.
3. Launch a pilot project to support the provision of reform advice to police services and the development of internal capacity to support continuous improvement.

PILLAR #2: NEW MODELS OF COMMUNITY SAFETY

1. Collaborate on the examination and modification of practices, policies and legislation related to privacy and information-sharing to facilitate integrated, proactive models of community safety.
2. Launch a pilot project to provide collective coordination and support to implement new models of community safety across Canada.

PHASE II – ACTIONS FOR CONSIDERATION

BUILDING A SAFE AND RESILIENT CANADA

PILLAR #3: EFFICIENCIES WITHIN THE JUSTICE SYSTEM

1. Examine the Criminal Code of Canada and other federal, provincial and municipal statutes in order to review legislation that affects police practices with a view to make interactions between police services and the larger justice system more efficient.

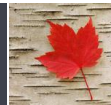

Public Safety
Canada

Sécurité publique
Canada

6

NEXT STEPS

BUILDING A SAFE AND RESILIENT CANADA

Engagement:

- Strategy development and implementation to continue to be led by all FPT governments and multi-stakeholder Steering Committee.

Implementation:

- Continue implementing Phase I Actions.
- Return to FPT Ministers in fall 2014 with a detailed workplan and timelines for Phase II Actions.

Public Safety
Canada

Sécurité publique
Canada

7